

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: March 12, 2013

CONTACT: Kimberly Larson, 623-930-2989, Public Information Office

GLENDALÉ'S PASSPORT TO SCIENCE EVENTS WRAP UP SATURDAY WITH THE SCIENCE OF HOCKEY AT JOBING.COM ARENA

GLENDALÉ, Ariz. – DeVry University and Honeywell are sponsors of the Science of Hockey event on Saturday, March 16, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in partnership with the city of Glendale as part of the Arizona SciTech Festival, a statewide science festival that includes more than 200 events during February and March. This weekend's event includes demonstrations about the physics of a slapshot, sports medicine information and how the Zamboni functions.

The free family-friendly event is open to the public and designed to get children and adults excited about science and how it applies to the sport of hockey.

Other activities include a tour of the city-owned Jobing.com Arena and interactive activities from local organizations including Midwestern University, Chamberlain College of Nursing, Glendale Community College, SciPreneur and Sun Valley Solar.

For more information, contact shoshana.leon@honeywell.com or visit www.glendaleaz.com/science.

###